Introduction and professional goals: I am an engineer by profession. In the last two years I have reoriented myself and now work in the educational field. My understanding of education is realistic, dynamic and puts people at the center. I am particularly inspired by Paulo Freire, Célestin Freinet, Linda Smith and Jorge Larrosa. I am committed to education that questions Eurocentric perspectives, thinks decolonially and is not characterized by standardization or economization, rather by encounters, reflection and critical thinking.
